

Please.
Came here!

Oh my gosh!
You are an alien!

A whimsical, mechanical creature is depicted within an ornate, gold-colored frame. The creature has a dark, metallic body with a prominent, glowing red circular eye. Its mouth is shaped like a keyboard, with white and black keys. A green, glowing ring is visible around its neck. The creature is positioned as if it is looking at the viewer. The background within the frame is dark and textured.

The shape of small toy keyboards is very common throughout the universe.

A framed scene with a robot, a car wheel, a speedometer, and a gear. The robot is in the center, wearing a blue jacket with a 'Cobol' tag and glasses with glowing red eyes. To its left is a car wheel. To its right is a speedometer with 'WAT' and 'M' markings. In the foreground is a large, textured gear.

Got it! The shapes
are always the same,
but they serve
different functions

A framed scene from the movie 'The Iron Giant'. The Giant's face is visible, wearing a blue jacket and glasses. A control panel with a keyboard and a large horn is attached to the side of the machine. The scene is set against a dark blue background.

Sorry! I got scared.
Hello, dear alien friend.

Just imagine how terrified
I was seeing a toilet brush
trying to grab me
